July, 2010

Dear Friends,

Recently I came across some old letters and papers of my father's. Here is a sample of his philosophy of life and living, "You want to be happy – make others happy. Make yourself useful to your fellow man." In one of his letters to me when I was young he said, "May you be blessed with a real consciousness of moral responsibility to yourself and to others. The law. . .is that you GET what you GIVE, but you must GIVE first, give service and then you will have your compensation." And he had jotted these lines on a scrap of paper: "The greatest value in life – the will to work, the joy of work, love of people and serving them."

I think we would all like to make the world a better place by our having lived and worked and loved here on earth. Gloriæ Dei Artes fills that spot in my life and in the lives of the many hard working volunteers who give of themselves every day to improve the lives of others, to care for and train young people, to inspire others to want to achieve excellence, to love life and to make the most of it.

Your presence here tonight says, "I want to help you GIVE. I want to support you in your work with young people, enabling them to have hope for the future, to know they have achieved excellence in a worthwhile endeavor, and to go forth into the world themselves to make it a better place."

Thank you in advance for your high bids tonight, for GIVING from the heart, for GIVING so that you and I and many others may serve the young people who are our future.

God bless you,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Sally Kawaga". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a long horizontal line extending from the start of the name.

AUCTION 2010

1 GO GREEN, GO HEALTHY, BUT GO!

No, we don't mean a new car – even if it is a hybrid and comes with a tax write-off. This is your best opportunity to go really GREEN and bike it! It is not only good for the environment and your pocketbook; it is wonderful exercise for your body. And do it in style and comfort on a new Trek Hybrid from the Orleans Cycle. For ease of peddling, and durability, it features an alpha aluminum frame along with all of the other comfort and safety features you'd expect on a Trek 10 speed. And better still, the winner is urged to visit the shop and select another model instead that may fit his or her needs even more perfectly. So bid high, GO GREEN and be healthy!

Tom Menard, Orleans Cycle Shop, Orleans, MA

Value: $ 359

2 SITTING IS WHAT SOME DO BEST

But that isn't the kind of sitting we have here. This is a very specialized sitting – for a fine “family” portrait with Robert Tucker at Focalpoint Studio. It is so easy to miss the opportunity to capture the family picture – it's something I'll get to later – a time that may never happen, until they've grown and totally changed. Here is your chance to catch 'em while they are as you'd like to remember them – be it the kids or the grandkids – or perhaps just the two of you together. Let the skilled professional Focalpoint Studio preserve this special time with a full color unframed 16” x 20” portrait. So quick, make a date any time between now and July of next year.

Robert Tucker, Focalpoint Studio, Orleans, MA

Value: $ 800

3 THE WIND BLOWS FREE – OFF CHATHAM

So join the Green Crowd for a wonderful afternoon sail “before the mast” aboard “Hallelujah,” the beautiful 38-foot Freedom sloop skippered by Bob Bowden. Up to four of you will be treated like royalty – with refreshments and hospitality that just won’t stop. You’ll sail out of the picturesque historic Stage Harbor and cruise Nantucket Sound for a full afternoon – with even an opportunity to take the helm if you wish. This is great fun, both for sailors and land-lubbers alike – we have tried it and it can’t be beat! Call Captain Bob at 508-945-4026 or email neisrb@aol.com to make arrangements for your sail during August or early September.

We have the perfect answer for two of you! These operas are spectacular presentations and include interviews with the lead singers and shots of the unbelievable back stage set changing, all done with superb camera work. There is even an English translation on screen, just in case you don’t do well with foreign languages. You’ll see much more than if you were there in person, and at a fraction of the cost and bother. In addition, you will have certificates for two delicious luncheon sandwiches at Café Alfresco in Brewster and gift certificates to a whole list of fabulous restaurants for lunch or dinner, Scargo Cafe, The Red Pheasant Inn, Olivers and Planck’s Tavern, and Abba Restaurant. 5 CHICAGO IN THE GRANDEST OF STYLE

That's what we have for the two of you – two nights at the Belden Stratford Hotel, ideally located right on Lincoln Park, across from the Flower Conservancy, the Peggy Notebaert Nature Museum and the Zoo. And all of this just minutes from downtown – Michigan Avenue shopping, the Navy Pier, and so many fine restaurants for which the “City by the Lake” is so famous. (The Texans say “all of the choice steaks go east” – as far east as Chicago.) Your room will be most spacious and even includes a small kitchen – if you care to prepare a snack, or even a meal, despite the fact that you will also have a complimentary continental breakfast. The Belden Stratford is truly Grand in the old style – meaning that it is gracious in every respect. So enjoy your time on a space available basis. Along with this package come four tickets to the Shedd Aquarium, one of the premier aquariums in the country.

6 BE PREPARED — THE TAX MAN COMETH

And there seems to be no doubt that this year he will come in new and devious ways to spoil your Spring. Perhaps this ugly fact is way back in your mind at this midpoint of the year – but it will surely come, so be prepared! We have up to five certificates for individual tax return help offered by Jim Bombanti, CPA, right here in Orleans. For skilled, professional help, contact Jim soon so that when the fateful season rolls ‘round you will be fully prepared and at peace.

7 A LITTLE INN ON PLEASANT BAY — THE PLACE TO GO

The only thing that is little is the number of lovely rooms – 9 – beautifully decorated guest rooms, most with a wonderful view of Pleasant Bay and the others overlooking lovely English gardens. Everything is beautiful and enchanting. The Inn is located just off Route 28 with a commanding view of Pleasant Bay and the outer beach. It is set well back from the road with a real working cranberry bog in front and is surrounded by lovely English-style gardens. All rooms, most queen or king, have a private bath, A/C, and all of the other niceties you would expect from a top rated Inn. In addition, a European-style continental breakfast is served – on the terrace in fine weather. If you need further confirmation, check out the reviews on the web: 13 of 13 rate it tops – 5 on a scale of 1-5. Two nights for two on a space available basis, you can't do better for yourself or your friends, and to top that off – if it is possible – you will also have a $50 gift certificate for The Cape Sea Grille – one of the Cape's finest five star restaurants. This is truly a remarkable combo, bid it in and enjoy!

8 SANIBEL – IT'S PEACEFUL IN THE WEST

Some like the “glitz” of the busy east coast – but for those who enjoy a more laid back tempo there is no place quite like Sanibel, Florida. And it doesn't get any better than this – a tastefully decorated private condo – two bedrooms, (one king and the other a twin), two baths, living room/dining room, new gourmet kitchen plus a private lanai. The legendary white Gulf beach is just a short walk down a private path – so you can sun and “shell” to your heart's content – for you know, Sanibel is known as the original home of the sea shell! Besides the warm waters of the Gulf, there is a heated pool, bike trails galore, restaurants and shops – plus, of course the wide variety of attractions on the island. The “Ding” Darling National Wildlife Sanctuary occupies a full sixty percent of the island so it is a delight for all nature lovers. Please call Sally Kanaga immediately, 508-237-4876, for the best selection of dates from now until November-early December of this year, and again in April-May of 2011.

Joanne Wuschke, Dover, MA

9 TROPICAL ISLAND PARADISE, SO NEAR, AND YET SO FAR!

Abaco Cay and Elbow Cay in the Bahamas are invitingly close to the States – and yet the whole tempo of this island retreat is so different from our harried “state-side” life. Spend a week in Hope Town at the lovely Turtle Hill Vacation Villas and you will know why there is an almost irresistible aura about this quaint Loyalist settlement with its friendly people and the picturesque candy-striped lighthouse. Your vacation home for the week will be a two bedroom villa beside an inviting fresh water pool perched above the sparkling blue Atlantic. It is fully equipped with two bedrooms, two baths, a fully equipped kitchen, spacious living room with a queen size pull-out sofa, dining area, central air plus ceiling fans, all surrounded by a private wrap-around deck. Linens are provided as are beach towels. There are golf carts available for rent, if you so choose. Can’t imagine that you’ll need it, but they have cable TV/VCR and a CD cassette player. They also have a private dock for your use in Hope Town Harbour (notice the old English influence). So gather up as many as six of your friends and be off for an unforgettable and relaxing vacation. Not available over Christmas and New Years and for the two weeks over Easter vacation. Please email Amy Key at turtlehillvillas@aol.com to make your reservation.

10 TROPICAL SERENITY AND HOME TOWN HOSPITALITY

The name “Serena” says it all in one word. The Villa Serena owned and operated by our own “Land Ho” Murphys, John and OJ, is the perfect spot to unwind and have a relaxing week on the sunny west coast of hospitable Costa Rica. The Villa Serena is located on the Pacific shore at Playa Junquillal, right on the lovely white sand beach that stretches for unbroken miles and miles – even more than our own Nauset. This is an intimate full-featured resort – but with a pool, tennis, beautiful gardens and grounds and all manner of beach activity plus surfing, snorkeling or just reading that book you never seem to have time for. Other near-by facilities include golf, horse-back riding, sport fishing, black sea turtle watching and kayaking. And then there are the side trips to the National Parks, waterfalls, rain forest, and local native villages. Just inland from the Villa is a tropical “jungle” with a wonderful array of birds and small animals and a wide variety of tropical plants and wild flowers. Meals are not included in the package but available are selections from “State side” to native Costa Rican specialties – and all carefully served just as at the Land Ho. Enjoy your own private cottage, for there is just no better place to kick back and relax. And a special note: Air fare from Boston is included making this an all-inclusive tropical get-a-way for two and it’s available any time before July, 2011!

13 FAMILY FUN DOWN ON THE FARM

These days it is difficult to find a resort for the family that isn't filled with the latest gadgets – video games, jet skis, noise, and all. A rare exception is the Wildflower Inn in Lyndonville, VT. Two adults and two children are welcome to stay for two days in the Carriage House. Your lovely room has a queen for you and bunk beds for the kids. Also included is a wonderful country breakfast for the whole gang. The 570-acre farm is enough attraction for “city kids,” and that includes most of us, but in addition they have a whole array of kid-friendly equipment and activities – with supervision provided – so that mom and dad, or Grams and Pop, can have a real vacation too – there's a fishing pond, basketball, swimming pool, batting cage, badminton, volleyball, and hiking. It is no wonder that the Inn is an award winning selection by such publications as Yankee, New England Travel, the Boston Globe and Life. What a gift for your family, your kids, or your grandkids.

14 A COMMON MERGANSER DECOY

The only thing that is “common” about this Merganser is the authentic name. From there on in everything is very special. Carved by award-winning artist James Meyer of Haddam CT, this bird is accurate and life-like in every detail from the tip of its bill to the last individually carved feather of its tail. This is not one of those decoys that is uncovered in someone’s garage – this is a work of art of the highest quality which will bring pleasure to its owners over the years and should increase in value too! Mr. Meyer is well known for his carvings, and over the past 30 years his works have received numerous blue ribbon awards in national bird carving exhibitions. He has also been a judge at the annual New England Wildlife Exposition. This one is for the real connoisseur of the carver’s art! Enjoy for a lifetime!

15 NEW HAMPSHIRE - FUN FOR THE GANG

It’s not often that you get an opportunity to find a quaint private home that can accommodate as many as 10! For a full week the whole gang can enjoy the very best that the Granite State has to offer – and during your favorite time of the year. Some like the lazy days of summer – when all of the shops and other attractions are in full swing, others prefer the autumn when the foliage is at its peak. Then there are those hearty souls who love the winter sports that the state is so well known for, and finally those that love to just relax in the spring – mud season to the locals – but quiet and oh so restful. Gather up the gang, perhaps a family reunion, a group of friends, or several other like-minded couples and come enjoy this restored country farmhouse and cottage. The house offers a cozy living room, kitchen, three bedrooms, two baths, and a wonderful screened porch with a sweeping view across the countryside. Just across the country road is “the cottage” with a living room, small kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. The wonderful deck offers a panoramic view of the fields that surround the farm. And a strong point is the caretaker, just down the road, who is always ready to help you in any way that he can – from fixing anything that might be “broke,” to acting as the local information center. Call Sally Kanaga at 508-237-4876 early on for the best selections of time. “The Farm” is available for your week’s stay on a “space available” basis from “Auction Time” until mid-July 2011.

16 FUN IN THE SUN – ON TURTLE KEY

“Out Islands” here we come for six days of relaxation and sun at the Green Turtle Club Resort located on quaint and friendly Green Turtle Cay, Abaco, Bahamas. The Club will welcome the two of you any time throughout the year – ‘til July 17, 2011 for a relaxing stay of 6 nights and 7 days in one of their lovely waterfront rooms – overlooking the private marina – and surrounded by tropical grounds. These islands were settled by Loyalists during the Revolutionary War and still retain much of their colonial charm – both architecturally, but more importantly, socially. The folks are so friendly that you will feel right at home exploring all three miles of this lovely island. Since you are not tied down to meals at the Club, you’ll be free to explore the real native fare at one of the many restaurants “downtown” in New Plymouth as you explore the island and coves from which pirates of old operated. Check it on the web greenturtleclub.com and you’ll be hooked.

23 FLOWER ARRANGEMENT – JAPANESE – “IKEBANA”

Ever wonder how our Japanese friends can achieve such graceful and evocative flower arrangements with such a limited amount of plant material? The approach is far different than that of the “west” and yet the results are so striking and memorable. Here is your chance, not only to learn how it is done and why, but also how to create these striking artistic creations while expressing your individual love of nature. This art form, like painting and sculpture, has a structure of basic principles which must be learned and mastered before an individual can strike off on their own creative path. And that is just what Suzanne Inomota is planning to do in four 1 ½ hour fun and challenging sessions – to be arranged at your mutual convenience. She will provide all of the necessary plant materials, dish, pin holder, beginning book and hand outs. So be prepared to really express yourself and your love of nature in this exciting art form.

24 ROCK HARBOR REMEMBRANCE – IN LIVING COLOR

There is no place that is more reminiscent of the Cape than our own home port – Rock Harbor. And nothing catches the salty flavor of this spot as does a beautiful painting – especially if it is from the skilled hand of our own William J. Maloney. Known as a premier Marine painter and shown across the Cape and from Maine to the Florida Keys, Bill lives in Harwich so he has a very special “feel” for our local landmarks. This oil painting of “The Boats of Rock Harbor” demonstrates his gift and dedication magnificently. Here is a classic that will provide pleasure in any Cape lover’s home for years to come. So come buy a bit of the Rock and enjoy for a life time.

25 THE BIG APPLE – TWO NIGHTS FOR TWO

That's hardly enough time to see and experience all of the things New York has to offer – but the location of the Salisbury Hotel will be a great help. 57th Street, half way between Broadway and Fifth Avenue, puts you right in the middle of so many of New York's favorite attractions – right across the street is Carnegie Hall and within a short walk you'll find Lincoln Center, Saint Patrick's Cathedral, Radio City Music Hall, Rockefeller Center, and a bit further Times Square and the Theater district. The Salisbury was originally built as a residential hotel with the result that the rooms are more spacious than in the newer hotels, and none of which have such an ideal location. The two of you will have a one bedroom suite for two nights.

Black out dates for 2010: September 13-25, November 3-7, November 25-30, December 1-11 and 31. Black out dates for 2011: January 1, November 2-6, November 25-30, and December 1-10. Good from July 31, 2010 'til Dec 31, 2011

26 NEWPORT – IN HISTORY TIME – OR THE HIGH TIME

Choose a time when the history and romance of Newport can come through or enjoy the noise and excitement of the summer season – it's your choice. And for a place to stay and relax in Newport there is absolutely no match for the charm and comfort of the Francis Malbone House. Originally built in the 1760's it is called a B&B but, having enjoyed their hospitality, I call it the most gracious and charming of inns. Its location is within walking distance of the historic waterfront and the vast array of interesting eateries for which the town is so famous. At the other end of the social scale, the Newport mansions, called cottages by the rich and famous who vied to see which one could build the grandest, are but a short drive away. You have two complimentary tickets to tour one of the mansions, given by the Preservation Society of Newport. Or visit the Doris Duke Mansion, a Newport Restoration, or the Tennis Hall of Fame, or the oldest Synagogue in the Americas, or especially in the summer, enjoy one of the many concerts and special events. The list goes on and on and you'll be able to select the time and event of your particular interest. So come and enjoy two nights and wonderful buffet breakfasts for two during the "off season" November 1st until May 15th, or one night in season, both in the height of luxury and surrounded by history.
